FACTS AND OBSERVATIONS

Of a Political Nature--Senator Ecton's Repudiation--The U. S. Senatorship Should not Dominate Other Interests.

Last week there was much comment in this Senatorial district concerning the conduct of Senator C. B. Ecton, in repudiating his promise and pledge to vote for Jo Blackburn for U. S. Senator.

We have given to our readers Mr. Ecton's letter of explanation addressed "to the public", we give in this issue comments from a Winchester paper, which we presume correctly and impartially tells what many, if not the majority of Clark county Democrats think of Mr. Ecton's conduct, we also print a letter from a gentleman from this city addressed to Mr. Ecton. We shall not attempt to dissect the letter from Mr. Ecton. Judging from what we have heard and read, we do not approve of Mr. Ecton's course. He should not have repudiated his promise to support Senator Blackburn, unless Senator Blackburn's conduct, since Mr. Ecton was nominated, has been of such a character as would bring the blush of shame and a reproach to the people of our district and State. Senator Blackburn has been very bold and explicit in his condemnation of certain acts of those who are identified with the State administration, frequently referred to as "the machine."

The mere fact that he opposed something or somebody connected with the State administration, should not subject him to condemnation, nor does it, in our opinion, release Mr. Ecton from his solemn promise to vote for Senator Blackburn. Personally we preferred the opponent of Senator Blackburn, but when we saw that Mr. Ecton, an avowed Blackburn supporter, had received the nomination, we concluded that he would vote for Senator Blackburn and redeem the promise made to the majority of Democrats in this district. We regret Mr. Ecton's procedure. His usefulness will not be impaired, and he exposes himself to loss of confidence on the part of many men who were really in favor of Senator Blackburn's opponent.

Just here we wish to say that we think the U. S. Senatorship has figured too conspicuously in the selection of State Representatives and Senators in this and other districts.

Important as is the selection of a U. S. Senator, it should not dominate the office for which Mr. Ecton was nominated, nor should most of the sessions of the Legislature be consumed thereby. The election of a U. S. Senator is not more important than other combined interests of the State. Mr. Ecton appears to desire "to be true to his conscience." In this we wish him success.

Died in New Mexico.

The remains of David P. McCord, who died at Roswell, New Mexico, were brought to Richmond for burial. Mr. McCord was the eldest son of R. P. McCord, of Red House.

Wants $2,000.

Craddock Willoughby, of the county has filed suit in Circuit Court for $2,000 damages against Reuben Harper, alleging assault. Mr. Harper hit him with a cane.

Two million Americans suffer the torturing pangs of dyspepsia. No need to. Burdock Blood Bitters cures. At any drug store. 25¢.

God and all His noisy angels are on the side of the man who attempts that which is good.

Will Survey Kentucky.

Representative Hopkins, of Kentucky, has received definite assurances from the United States Geological Survey that a complete survey will be made of the coal fields in the Kentucky and Big Sandy River District. This will mean the initial step in the development of a section of Kentucky which is supposed to be marvelously rich in mineral resources and eventually should prove a great value to the commercial interests of the State. The survey will include the counties of Pike, Floyd, Johnson, Martin, Magoffin, Morgan, Breathitt and Lee. The geologists will start out early in the spring and will prosecute their surveys until they are completed.

There is no heaven for the man who will not try to gain it.

OPEN LETTER

Addressed to Senator Ecton. His Resignation Desired.

The following was sent to the Senator from this city:

THE LETTER.

Mr. Sterling, Ky., Dec. 25, '05.
C. B. Ecton: I write to congratulate you on the faithful (?) manner in which you kept your promise to the Democrats of this Senatorial district. What has wrought the sudden change in your opinion of Jo Blackburn? During the campaign you stated to me and hundreds of others that Jo Blackburn was "the truest and noblest Democrat in all Kentucky, and that it would be disgrace to the party to allow the Frankfort machine to defeat him."

You also said to me that after a thorough canvass of the district, you were satisfied the Democrats of the district were overwhelming for Blackburn. You must know this to be true yet, and that the principal reason they are for him is the reason you give for changing your front, viz: His courageous fight for the Democracy, and against machine politics and politicians. Henry L. Jones, John W. Montjoy, C. F. Kese, Judge John D. Young, Joe C. Scott, R. M. Smith, B. F. Wyat, John W. Cockrell, Capt. F. C. Riddell, W. S. Berkley and many others who worked night and day for you because they believed you were sincere in your statement that you would vote for Jo Blackburn "first, last and all the time," wish to join me in congratulating you on keeping (?) your promise to them and the other Democrats of this county and district.

The Democrats of the district will petition you to resign your seat in the Senate since you have unblushingly announced that you would violate your promises, publicly and privately made, and it seems to me this is the only honorable course open to you.

Hoping you may seek some lightless land where you will escape the just condemnation of a large majority of your Democratic constituents, I am,

SQUIRE TURNER.

$5,000 Fee Allowed by Trustees of Ky. State College.

Editor Walton, of the Kentucky State Journal, (State organ) reports that the Board of Trustees of the Kentucky State College allowed a fee of $5,000 to Messrs. Lewis McQuown, Eli Brown, and W. O. Davis for successfully prosecuting the suit to compel Auditor Hager to pay the $15,000 voted by the Legislature to supplement the cost of the maintenance of the college.

The State voted $15,000 to the college and then pays Lewis McQuown, Chairman of the Democratic State Committee; Eli Brown, Speaker of the House, and W. O. Davis, a Democratic official $34 per cent. to collect it.

Note.—The above was written for last week's issue but withdrawn for the reason that we could not believe it was true. Now we know that it is true, we print the article.—Sun-Sentinel.

Interesting News.

It will be interesting to a reader of the ADVOCATE to hear that at last a genuine cure for Constipation, Indigestion, Liver complaint, Headache and Biliousness has been found in Dr. Caldwell's (laxative) Syrup Peppermint. It is a pleasant, tonic purifying syrup with a mild action, and no bad after effects. Sold by W. S. Lloyd at 50¢ and $1.00. Money back if it fails. 25¢.

To Restore Statue of Henry Clay.

The following is part of a bill which will be introduced in the Legislature:

BILL.

Whereas the monument of Kentucky's great Statesman, Henry Clay, in the cemetery at Lexington, Kentucky, erected by the State of Kentucky and his admiring fellow-citizens in this and other States, was greatly injured by a storm which occurred on the 22nd day of July, 1903, and the statue, surmounting the same, wrested from the place and destroyed; therefore,

1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, that for the purpose of repairing said monument, and replacing the statue of our great statesman by another of suitable design and construction, the sum of Twenty Thousand ($20,000.00) Dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated to said object and . . . commissioners shall be appointed by the Governor, with the approval of the Senate, who shall have power and whose duty it shall be to engage a competent sculptor and other necessary contractors, and to secure and have placed in position surmounting the monument, a statue of Henry Clay, suitable in design, material and construction, and in all respects worthy of the distinguished man whose life and services are commemorated.

The commissioners shall not receive any pay for their services, but shall be reimbursed in any expenses incurred by them or any of them in carrying out said business.

PRESBYTERIANS PROTEST.

Cumberland Presbyterian Church Objects to Union with Presbyterian Church.

The Cumberland Presbyterian Loyalist Council in session at Nashville, Tenn., on Wednesday, adopted resolutions protesting against the proposed union of the Cumberland Presbyterian church with the Presbyterian church in the United States. The resolutions follow the report of the Legal Committee, of which Judge William C. Walker, of Knoxville, is chairman. This report holds that the title to the church property would remain with the "loyalists," because they hold the original articles of faith. The committee further says that the proposed union is illegal and that the Supreme Court of the United States decided cases involving the same state of facts, but in less important matters, in such a manner that the principles laid down absolutely preclude a union of these two great Presbyterian bodies.

The Hon. J. F. Winn, Dr. H. C. Hart and Mr. Columbus Thompson made speeches supporting the resolutions, which were unanimously adopted.

All of the speeches were in stronger language than is considered proper in polite society.

A little more moderation would probably have produced a better effect.

The feelings exhibited against Mr. Ecton was intense. He was compared to Burr and Arnold. "What was the consideration?" was repeated a number of times. Many calls were made for Mr. Strother who is a brother-in-law to Mr. Renick and visited Frankfort the day before Mr. Ecton's card repudiating Mr. Blackburn came out. The handbill distributed on the street invited Mr. Ecton to be present. Mr. Renick stated that he invited him over telephone and the answer was: "You can hold a thousand meetings and I will not come. I am a free born American citizen and will do as I please."

There were Democrats present that were not in sympathy with the spirit of the meeting but Blackburn supporters were so overwhelming in numbers that no opposition was offered.

One of the speakers referred to it as an indignation meeting. His language was superfluous, indignation was too prevalent for comfort.

No More Boxing in Chicago.

All amateur boxing matches or sparring contests, pugilistic tournaments and every variety ofistic art has been prohibited in Chicago by order of Chief of Police Collins.

In choosing for the present do back if it fails. 25¢ not forget the afterward.

There is no heaven for the man who will not try to gain it.

"Tin-Canning" the Leisure Class.

According to the press reports the women of a little Illinois town of 5,000 people, called Irondale, are raising a popular subscription to deport the leisure class of the town. The leisure class consists of one man, the only idle man in Irondale, they do say. The women purpose to send him just as far as the money they collect will pay his fare, in any old direction and there is to be no return trip ticket.

We don't know but what these women are right about it. An idle man is a sore that is apt to spread over a whole community. Laziness is about as infectious as a plague and just as disastrous to the real elements of a town's strength and progress. A plague kills people, they are put in the cold, cold earth out of sight and out of the way, or cremated; and the survivors go about their usual occupations.

But loafing does something more than kill. It leaves a live corpse walking around a community to infect the rest of it. It atrophies energy, ambition and effort in all sorts of men, and it checks the aggressive spirit of youth.

A loafer may not be so bad a thing to have around as a leper, in one way; but he is worse in another. He is more of a burden to himself than a leper and to those upon whom ability and willingness to to hustle, he is dependent.

Second, That we avow our confidence in Senator Blackburn and declare he is the unquestioned champion of the Democrats of Clark county.

Third, That we call upon Senator Ecton to fulfill the solemn pledges he made to the people in this district on the question of the election of a Senator from Kentucky to the Senate of the United States.

Plum Lick.

James Kendall has 20,000 pounds of tobacco ready for the market.

Several crops of tobacco in this vicinity have been sold to French, at Carlisle, at 8½ to 9½ cents.

Miss Willie Taulbott carried off the honor—a gold ring—as being the most popular young lady at Prof. Hagerman's show the other night.

James Kendall sold 8 sheets to Calvert King for $30.50.

Married December 20, 1905, Mr. Clifton J. Douglas and Miss Bertha F. Barr. The groom is a son of James Douglass, a mechanic by trade, and very cigar-fair young man. The bride is the popular and accomplished daughter of G. W. Barr, of Bramblett, and will, no doubt, make Mr. Douglas's most excellent helpmate. Immediately after the ceremony, they left for the home of the groom, where a grand reception was given, after which some very excellent music was rendered by the East Union orchestra. May the sunlight of happiness ever illuminate their pathway.

Many tributes to James Whitcomb Riley, the Hoosier poet, were paid at the meeting of the Indiana State Teacher's Association in Indianapolis by Senator Beveridge, Mr. Henry Watson and others.

The Fayette county grand jury returned ninety-six indictments against Lexington saloons for violations of the Sunday closing laws.

Mainomet's tomb is covered with jewels worth $12,500,000.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR CONGRESS.

We are authorized to announce Judge H. Clay Maggs as a candidate for Congress in the Tenth District, subject to the action of the Republican party, in convention or otherwise.

Where art thou, Senator Eckton? are the dreamy cogitations of the workers for the Kentucky candidates for U. S. Senator. He has been for the two candidates and against the two. Where art thou now?

The outlook for Mt. Sterling in 1906 is really flattering. Business men encouraged, natural gas soon to be turned on, electric lines being considered and new enterprises turned this way, is really inspiring to the business man.

Mayor C. W. Harris at the first meeting over which he presided gave out his position on vital questions and informed all parties that the law would be respected, especially plain was he with the whisky dealers, who he notified that a violation of the Sunday law would result in the revoking of their license.

A MERITORIOUS JOURNAL.

From the Kentucky Elk, published at Louisville, we find these two paragraphs. The sentiment is searching and worth much. "The world needs kindness more than creeds." "A few friends at heart are worth a whole directory in the head."

The Kentucky Elk, the official organ of the order of Elks in Kentucky and also of Indiana, ably edited by Mr. Chas. J. Cruise, is doing much for the order and is finding its way to the reading public, both of members of the society and others who admire it for its literary merit and the information it brings.

A SERIOUS MATTER.

So far as we have heard, the assault made upon Mrs. Henry Watson by John Flarity was unprovoked, inexcusable, cowardly, murderous. We said at first and say now that if Mrs. Watson dies from the wound, Flarity should die—not at the hands of a mob, but by a due process of court, whereupon he will be justly, promptly, and administered by men who regard their oaths and the sacred responsibilities imposed upon them, as judge, lawyers, witnesses, jurors.

The record of bloodshed in this county is appalling, and more so when we consider how inadequate if not trivial has been the punishment meted out. The shed blood must be atoned for; God will require it at our hands. We ask:

Have prospective jurors much encouragement to enforce the law when they know that the sentences imposed by former jurors (for manslaughter or murder) have been set aside, either by our Governor or by the Board of Pardon commissioners, who are not in position to know the facts as well as the jurors who bring in a verdict of guilty. We can give the name of a man in this county, who, in speaking of a killing in this country, said that he paid $750 to get him (the guilty) out of the trouble, cleared void, and statement was

WAYS OF AMATEUR SLEUTH

Rival of Sherlock Holmes Tells of Tracing Burglar—Follow Boarders Are Real Culprits.

"We have a young professional man at our house who imagines himself a second Sherlock Holmes," said the star boarder to the New Orleans Times-Democrat. "No matter how deep the mystery presented in the columns of the daily press, invariably at the breakfast table he is ready with a solution. He is a doctor of medicine, and I must confess that he is bright beyond his years, but he has not yet developed to a point where he can give our old friend Sherlock a run for his cash. But to the story. The doctor sleeps in his office, which occupies a room on the lower floor of our boarding house. The other evening he was suddenly called away on professional business. Several of us boarders were seated on the gallery. It was noticed that the doctor, in his rush, to go to his patient, neglected to turn off the gas. This always drew a scowl from the landlady. I volunteered to turn off the jet, but discovered that both the front and rear doors leading to the office of the doctor were locked. One of the boys suggested that I climb through the window. I did. When I reached the inside I invited one of the other boarders to follow me and have a glimpse at the doctor's mode of housekeeping. The idea struck me that we could have some fun by turning the room upside down and making it appear that burglars had been busy during the doctor's absence. We emptied his armoire, throwing the clothes in the middle of the floor, and ransacked the drawers of his desk. The room was a sight when we doused the gas and departed. The next morning at the breakfast table the doctor said he had been robbed. One of the men asked him if he missed anything. 'No,' he said, 'they soon found they had gotten in the quarters of a poor man. They were after money, and when they could not find any, they took revenge by throwing all my clothes and effects over the floor.' 'How are you any clew?' inquired the boarders, and always pretended belief in the doctor's ability to fathom mysteries. 'Yes,' was the reply, and the young professional man knitted his eyebrows and centered his optics on a fly that was creeping up the wall. 'There was only one fellow implicated. I traced him early this morning, shortly after daybreak, as far as the front gate by his footstep. There I lost track of him when he stepped on the brick banquette. You see, in leaving the premises he walked on the ground, in order that his footsteps might not be heard. But I have the size of his shoe, and may get him yet.' Of course, we all told the doctor that we hoped he would bring the scoundrel to justice. But thus far he has failed to do so."

Superstitions of Burglars.

A writer who has been investigating the subject of superstition among burglars gives it as his conclusion that no burglar will "crack" a house where a female servant that squints is kept. If a burglar sees three different horses slip down in a day he will not work that night. One Englishman in the dock confessed that members of his profession would never "burglar houses with the numbers 22, 93, 111 and 44."

ominates—Forecast Favors Him.

Friends congratulated Judge Paynter as Senator Tuesday and the men as winners for the leadership in both houses, it looks very much like he would be winner. The house caucus nominated over Miller by a forty-two to thirty two, the caucus won for the forces by a thirteen. Blackburn caucus, claiming that the Monday night was not even a line up, and that in the end he would win. Haldeman was surprised at the great strength shown by Judge Paynter, but is yet hopeful. Everybody outside of personal interests feel that the election is over except the shoving, and that Paynter will be nominated for Senator on the first ballot.

Special to ADN-STATE:

At the Democratic caucus held in Frankfort Tuesday night to select a candidate for United States senator, Judge Paynter was nominated on the first ballot, the vote being Blackburn, 34 V. Paynter 10; Smith, 2; Pe-

TO BOWL THE PROPER WAY

Method Is Suggested of Getting Beneficial Exercise Out of the Sport.

Nothing is right simply because it is old. In fact, the more antique a thing or method is, the greater the probability that it is wrong. "We put ourse's on the back and call ours the age of improvements, but every age has been called that, and the people have prided themselves accordingly," says the Brooklyn Eagle. We ridicule the Chinese for being tied up to the same methods and superstitions of their forefathers, but many of our superstitions and methods are just as ridiculous. This is true in a marked degree in the case of two of our sports. We saddle and ride the race horse as did the old fogies of 200 years ago, when a little common sense applied to the subject would make any horse five pounds faster than he is under the present antiquated system. Take also the game of bowling. For some hundreds of years this always popular game has been played in a manner to produce the minimum results so far as the chief purpose of the game is concerned, which is to provide healthful exercise.

By the method which is about to be suggested bowling will provide exercise as perfect as rowing or bicycle riding, and probably the very best exercise to be had indoors. As to the minor purpose of the game, the development of skill in the scoring of points, the new method will, with the same amount of practice, result in even greater proficiency than has been attained in the old. Furthermore, a perfect sphere may be used, while now it is necessary to bore holes in the ball for the insertion of the fingers. The proper method of rolling the ball is as follows: The player toes the chalk line, standing square with the alley, with his feet well apart. He takes the ball between the palms of his hands, and in order to hold it thus brings into play every muscle of his fingers, hands and forearms. He then raises the ball up over his head, naturally keeping it in the central line of his body, inhales a full breath, swings it downward and backward between his legs as far as his arms will reach and, leaning well forward, discharges it with great force, the impact of the discharge throwing him back into an upright position. Bowling in this way brings into play every muscle of the body from the tips of the fingers to the toes.

CERNE GIANT DISAPPEARING

Interesting Survival of Prehistoric England Rapidly Descending Into Native Oblivion.

An interesting survival of prehistoric England is threatened with destruction owing to neglect. This is the "Cerne Giant," a colossal human figure cut on the side of a lofty hill that overlooks the picturesque village of Cerne Abbas, eight miles north of Dorchester.

It is several years since the furrows which outline the giant's figure were scoured and refined with chalk. Gradually the latter has been washed away by the winter rains and it is now barely visible. Grass has so encroached on the channels that, seen from a distance, the details of the gigantic figure are hard to trace, though the uncouth human form is still recognizable. The cost of renovating the giant is estimated at about £12, but no one in the locality knows where the money is to come from.

The "Old Man," as he is styled by the natives of Cerne Abbas (the "Abbot's Cerne" of Hardy's West-Saxon novels), is built on truly heroic lines. He stands 180 feet high and his right hand grasps a knotted club 121 feet long. The unknown artist had his own notions of the just proportions of the human frame, as will be seen from the following further measurements:

Length of body, 77 feet; legs, 80 feet; head, 22 feet; right arm, 109 feet; nose, 6 feet; diameter of eyes, 24 feet.

The antiquity of the figure is accepted by all archaeologists. Most authorities ascribe it to the Celtic period, while some have held that it represents an idol once worshipped by the pagan West Saxons. Another view is that it was the work of the monks of the then newly-found Benedictine Abbey of Cerne.

WEE PACKAGES OFTEN BEST

Some Men Should Have Tried Smaller Ones as Wives, Says Matrimonial Expert.

"Maria," he said, according to Stray Stories, as he put his feet on the footrest and caressed the meerschaum pipe he was coloring, "do you know that you are a lucky woman?"

"Yes, I am, am I?" she returned, eyeing him suspiciously. "I suppose you mean that I was fortunate in getting you for a husband?"

"No, Maria," he explained, "I do not consider myself such an extraordinary prize in the matrimonial lottery, but I'm better than none. You'll admit that?"

"Yes, a little better."

"And you're between 5 feet 10 inches and 5 feet 11 inches, if you are an inch."

"O, I'm too tall. You don't like—" she began.

"I admire tall women," he interrupted, hastily. "All men admire tall women, but I was just thinking, Maria, that they seldom marry them. That's the point, Maria. Just call to mind the old maid who you know. Is there a little woman among them? No, Maria; not one in a thousand. Now, why is it? Can you tell me that?" And he puffed his pipe moderately.

"I can," she said, coldly. "Perhaps you'll enlighten me," he suggested.

"I will," he responded. "Man adores a tall woman, but he's such a consummate coward that he won't marry anyone near his own size. She must be so small that he can handle her easily, Joseph; so small that he can terrorize her; so small that she seems his property rather than his partner. That's the kind of creature man is. Do you understand me, Joseph?"

"I do," he said, meekly.

"But sometimes they are fooled, Joseph; sometimes one of them gets a woman big enough to assert her rights."

"Sometimes one does," he admitted, "but sometimes he gets fooled worse than that, Maria. Sometimes, I am told, he gets a four-foot-six woman who has more pepper and mustard and brimstone in her than a giantess. One can't tell by the size of the package just what it contains, Maria. If one could—"

"Well, if one could—" "Without intending anything personal, Maria—noting personal at all—I may say that some men would have taken larger packages, and some, Maria—some would have tried smaller ones."

Then he devolved himself to collecting his pipe, and she was undecided just what she ought to do.

The Kenai Peninsula.

With all its other features of interest Alaska is certainly a country remarkable for its magnificent mountain ranges and great glaciers. Its mountains are the highest in North America, and the beauty and extent of its glaciers are world famed. Whoever has been so fortunate as to travel the Straits, winding in and out among the heavy fields of ice that break away from the Muir and neighboring glaciers, or following the coast to the westward, past the Fairweather and St. Elias mountain ranges, through the beautiful Prince William sound, studded with mountain islands, and along the southern coast of the Kenai peninsula, will never forget the marvelous grandeur of the scene, though it is rare that the clouds lift from this grand panorama of high and rugged mountains and vast moving fields of ice.—Andrew J. Stone, in Recreation.

Birds Carry Young.

The woodcock has been known to carry away her young when threatened with danger. She places them on her spread feet, pressing them between the toes and the breast. A naturalist says many woodcocks also carry their young down to marshy feeding grounds in the evening, returning before dawn. In fact, they have no means of feeding their young except by carrying them to their food, for they cannot convey their food to them. The nests are usually in dry, heathery woods and the young birds require plenty of moisture.

KEYS TO GUESTS' TRUNKS

Hotel Porters Have Device That Will Open Any Article of Baggage—Souvenir Habit the Reason.

Pass keys to rooms are not the only kind used in hotels. Porters are also provided with keys that will open any trunk lock.

This is necessary in order to keep the guests from accumulating souvenirs in such numbers that the hotels would suffer. The tendency to collect souvenirs always develops most rapidly in tourists, because of the belief that they can be carried away without danger of detection.

"I cannot always tell what trunks to open," the proprietor of an uptown hotel said to a Washington Post reporter the other day. "So there are occasional collections that get by me. But I rarely miss the heavy takers."

"Only last week the housekeeper called the attention of the proprietor to the great demand for linen that came from a certain woman guest. She had been in the hotel nearly a year, occupying a suite with a sitting room and spending plenty of money on food and laundry."

"The suspicion that she might be taking the sheets, towels and pillow cases that were disappearing so rapidly seemed improbable in the highest degree. Suddenly she notified the office that she was going to leave."

"Well, I opened her trunks with my skeleton key. They were all going to her sister's house down on the Jersey coast. That turned out to be a boarding house which the woman had just opened."

"In the trunks was all the missing linen. The name of the house had been carefully removed from all of it, but there was no uncertainty about the identification."

"We just took out the linen and sent the trunks along. Of course, we never heard of the woman again. She was rich enough to buy all the linen she wanted."

PROGRESS OF Y. M. C. A.

World's Greatest Institution Continuously Increasing in Membership.

All railroads welcome the establishment of Y. M. C. A. branches for their men, and prove their welcome by substantial support or the erection of splendid buildings. All the railroad branches are provided with rest-rooms and libraries, and most of them have luncheon rooms, gymnasiums, and even lodging rooms, says Pearson's. That the men gladly avail themselves of these accommodations is attested by the membership of over 70,000. A great work is done by the Colored Y. M. C. A. branches. The New York branch in West Fifty-third street, conducted by Secretary T. J. Bell, throws, perhaps, as interesting and encouraging a sidelight on this ever perplexing racing question as Booker Washington's institute at Tuskegee. The pleasant rooms are filled constantly with young colored men, most of them strangers in the metropolis, who spend their spare hours with checkers and music, instead of gracing the street corners in the colored sections of the city, and have many chances to overcome their educational shortcomings.

The most picturesque work conducted by the Y. M. C. A. is the Indian department. About 2,000 Indians constitute the membership of the 47 branches. The branches are by no means of the kindergarten order, trained and drilled by whites, but are largely officered by full-blooded Indians. The president of the Opawijou branch is E. Standing Elk; A. Wankatonwakie presides over the Pahsah branch, and Thomas Blue Cloud is secretary of Oak Creek branch.

Then there are the student, army, navy and colonial departments, not forgetting emergency departments, created for special needs, like militia summer camps and other great gatherings of men.

Down and Out.

When a man gets so old that insurance solicitors even cease to trouble him he is not in much danger of an attack by any member of the fair sex.

The first attack of love that comes to a man may not last long, but he is likely to remember it to the end of his days.

A Trite Saying.

It is a trite saying that man is stronger than disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach and it is strong to make you strong. It cures all diseases of the kidneys to expel the poisons from the body and thus restore health and vigor to the system. If you take this natural blood purifier and tonic, you will assist your spirit in maintaining health and a plenitude of rich red blood that is invigorating to the brain and nerves. The weak nervous can run and jump and the condition which many people suffer from, is usually the effect of poisons in the system. It is a fact that all the sores or boils appearing on the skin, the face becomes thin and the feelings "raise." Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery as well as being a tonic that makes one vigorous, strong and forceful. It is a safe medicine and it is a safe drug through druggists for like purposes that contains neither alcohol nor harsh and irritating drugs, but contains every ingredient of which has the professional endorsement of the medical profession. Some of these medical endorsements are published in a little book which is given to all who desire to purchase it. The price is $1.00 and will be sent free, on receipt of request, together with a copy of the "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a pamphlet of 20 pages. "Very Buffalo, N.Y. It tells just what Dr. Pierce's medicines are made of. The ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicine are composed, by leaders in all the several professions, and in their recommending them for the cure of the diseases for which the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a safe remedy. It costs far more weight with the sick and afflicted than any amount of the so-called "patent medicines" which are sold to the public by those who are afraid to let the ingredients of which they contain known to the world. Bear in mind that the "Golden Medical Discovery" has won many laurels and is a safe medicine wrapped in a full list of its ingredients.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, invigorate the liver and regulate the bowels.

Four Thousand Word Message.

Before the Tennessee Policy Holders' Association, Thomas W. Lawless, of "Frenzied Finance" fame, had a message of four thousand words denying that he had a representative at their meeting. The object of this association is to protect their interests in the approaching meetings of the Mutual Life Insurance Company. Commissioner Folk impressed the representatives that it was important to protect themselves against any wrong doings in the future.

A young gentleman who had not been many years married carefully laid down a piece of bread the other night and said to his wife: "I wish you could make bread such as mother used to make." The young wife smiled and remarked in a voice that did not tremble: "Well, John, I wish that you could make the dough that father used to make." A hush as silent as death fell so suddenly that John almost lost breath, and the bread and dough question hasn't come up for family discussion since.

Any woodchuck can undermine a tower, but only a man can build it. A fool can undermine a faith, but only a Christ can restore it.

Faith—Continued.

Some are heard to say also who have been baptized in the name of the Lord, "I am all right because I have joined the church." Others that, "I am all right because I pay my debts or taxes," but there are known large numbers who are walking in unrighteousness with no fear. God before them, will say when caught in drunkenness or some other gross immorality, "Oh I am sorry for it but you know everyone has his belief." But it is not long after they are repeating the same off-uses, and if not reclaimed through the kind heart and love of God fearing brethren, they become hardened and may never know the one true Faith that saves the soul.

Much of this condition of things in our churches is due to the fact that too little attention is given to all who deare their first birth in the Lord Jesus Christ by receiving him and confessing him before witnesses, as the son of the only true and living God, and to say to the uttermost all that trust in him.

The acts of the Apostles show us that they went around confirming the disciples soon after they had turned to the Lord, by the power of his gospel; and it was to make them understand the ground of their hope which endures unto everlasting life. For the soul of man under sin must be born again before he can learn or know the things of God. This takes place only by confessing and receiving the Son of God with the testimony of his death and resurrection for the removal of sin. As it is written: "As many as received him, to them he gave power to become the sons of God. First discipled and then beavers in God's appointed way of life that will endure forever. As further written.

In whom ye trusted after that ye heard the word of truth the gospel of your salvation and after that ye believed, ye were sealed with that holy spirit of promise: Eph. Chap. I. ver. 18: I have never known one to go back who comprehended clearly the truth of life as given by the grace of God in his son and has realized that the salvation of his soul cost the life of the Son of God—the innocent for the guilty. It is this knowledge that breaks the rebellious heart.

Aged Janitor Dies.

Moses Butcher, the aged colored janitor of the State Library, died at Frankfort Friday after a lingering illness. "Moses," as he was familiarly known by every prominent politician in Kentucky for half a century, has been in State service longer than any man who has ever had State employment. He came into service as janitor of the Adjutant General's office 1861, under Gov. Stevenson.

Challenged from W. S. Lloyd.

W. S. Lloyd is seeking the worst case of dyspepsia or constipation in Mt. Sterling or vicinity to test Dr. Howard's new specific for the cure of these diseases.

So confident is he that this remarkable medicine will effect a lasting cure in a short time, that he offers to refund the money should it not be successful.

In order to secure the quickest possible introduction, W. S. Lloyd will sell a regular fifty cent package of this medicine at half price, 25 cents.

This specific of Dr. Howard's will cure sick headache, dizziness, constipation, dyspepsia, and all forms of malaria and liver trouble. It does not simply give relief for a time; it makes permanent and complete cures.

It will regulate the bowels, tone up the whole intestinal tract, give you an appetite, make food taste good and digest well, and increase vigor. Joy and happiness will take the place of that "don't care whether I live or die" feeling.

There is no need of suffering with constipation, dyspepsia or liver disease when you can get sixty doses of a scientific medicine for their cure like Dr. Howard's specific for the small sum of 25 cents. 20-Jan-3

MINERS' DEMAND.

President Mitchell Communicated With Presidents of the Anthracite Coal Companies.

A CONFERENCE IS REQUESTED.

As to What the Mine Owners Will Do
Has Not Been Definitely Decided Upon.

All the Building Trades Unions in New York, except One, Signed a Trade Agreement of From One to Three Years.

Philadelphia, Dec. 26.—President John Mitchell, of the United Miners' Union, has communicated with the presidents of the anthracite coal producing companies in regard to the continuance of work in the hard coal fields.

It is understood the letter is in regard to holding a conference between the committee representing the United Miners' Workers and the operators. As far as the miners are concerned, it is not definite what action it will take.

Begins asking for an eight hour day, there are also to be presented other demands. The most important and that if adopted will mean the complete recognition of the union is the eight hour day. The mine committee board will be formed, one that will always be in session and will go from place to place to settle disputes. This request will meet with considerable opposition from the operators.

The proposed new board is to be composed of three members representing the miners and the same number representing the operators and a seventh member to be chosen by the other six.

The Building Trades.

New York, Dec. 26.—No workers were happier Monday than the 100,000 workers in the building trades when it was announced that every union, with the exception of the bricklayers and masons, and the journeymen carpenters, had signed a trade agreement of from one to three years, to go into effect January 1. By this action the unions have officially recognized the strike of the structural iron workers.

In many of the trades the prevailing wage will continue for the coming year. The wages of the house carpenters, however, will be increased 30 cents a day and the cabinet-makers 25 cents a day, beginning next Jan. 1.

The trade agreements now date from January 1 instead of May as heretofore. This step was taken because employers do not want strikes on their hands on May 1 when the busy building season begins.

EASTERN NEWSPAPER MEN.

A Christmas Banquet Given Them on Board a Swiftly Moving Train.

Ogden, Utah, Dec. 26.—The 40 eastern newspaper men, who are returning home after their ride on the initial run of the trans-Continental line, entered the Los Angeles limited train, the evening of the 24th, en route to Ogden, where they will be entertained at a Christmas banquet given on the train by the Union Pacific officials after the train left Salt Lake. The banquet aboard the train had all the features of a formal dinner, evening dress being the rule. The program, and the function is said to be unique in the history of railroad service. Christmas day was spent on the train whirling over the Death Valley at a rate of 50 miles per hour and despite three hours of delay due to joint trackage in Southern California, the train easily arrived at Salt Lake eight minutes ahead of time, making the round of 789 miles in 26 hours.

THE BARGE BATH ADRIAT.

No Signs of Life Was Shown Aboard the Ill-fated Vessel.

Norfolk, Va., Dec. 26.—According to reports the barge Bath Adriatic, which ran aground in the harbor of the Bay of Fundy, was adrift three days ago 25 miles east-southeast of Cape Henry. There were no signs of life aboard and officer Capt. McKenzie, his wife and his crew of five men were taken off by some vessel bound across or they were lost in the great blow.

PLAYED WITH A PISTOL.

In the Heart a Bullet Struck the Little Tennessee Lad.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Dec. 26.—Tom Keith, 16 years old, shot and instantly killed Charles E. Smith, a 16-year-old boy, at the latter's home at Spring Heights. It seems that the two boys were playing with a pistol and it went off accidentally, the bullet striking Dyer in the heart. Both of the boys are sons of prominent Chattanooga families.

Dined By President Palma.

Havana, Dec. 26.—President Palma dined with Mr. G. A. Atkinson, the new papal delegate to Cuba and Porto Rico, and Most Rev. Francisco De Barros, archbishop of Santiago.

Glen Miles To Be Relieved.

Washington, Dec. 26.—Secretary Taft has granted the application of Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles, United States army, retired, for relief from further duty with the organized militia of Massachusetts.

Veteran Postmasters.

Another of the many instances where faithful service has proved a barrier against interference for political reasons with the service of a Massachusetts postmaster is that of John S. Fay, Marboro, who has been in charge of that office since April 26, 1863, when he was appointed by President Johnson at a salary of $1,100. He has been successively reappointed nine times. Mr. Fay has over two years yet to serve under the reappointment given by President Roosevelt on February 28, 1903, when the salary was advanced to $2,500 per year.

Milo T. Winchester is believed to hold the long service record as postmaster. He is still performing his duties in charge of the office at South America, Dutchess County, N. Y., under the commission first given him July 10, 1849.

The record was held for many years by Roswell Beardis at the North Lansing, N. Y. office. He was appointed June 28, 1828, and served until his death, November 3, 1902, at the age of ninety-three. —N. Y. World.

HAVE AN ODD OCCUPATION

Fishing for Lost Anchors Is Strange
Occupation of Fishermen Along
Atlantic Coast.

Fishing for lost anchors and anchor chains from the bottoms of bays and seas along the coast does not seem to be a very profitable pursuit, and yet several sloops and schooners are engaged exclusively in that "trade." Such "fishing" is most profitable in the stretch of sea off Delaware breakwater, a place widely known among shipmen men as a great cemetery for anchors. This is due to the large number of vessels that are compelled to ride off the breakwater and to their being caught in a gale while doing so. The sea floor at this point seems to have a certain facility for taking anchors, and vessels are often compelled to abandon them. But all along the Atlantic coast there is fruitful "fishing" even in the interior waters of the harbor repairing a carew search, and surveys have been made for some distance up the North and East rivers.

Fishing for anchors is a very simple operation. A chain loop is let down over the sides of the boat until it trails along the bottom, and as the boat sails on all hands stand alert waiting for a "bite." The tackle is plain, but it has never been improved on. Anchors invariably lie with one fluke buried in the mud and the other sticking straight up. If the chain is dragging toward the inner curve of the upturned fluke the "catch" is easy. The anchor is carefully hoisted by hand, or, if very heavy, by capstans. In the case of an anchor that weighs 4,000 or 5,000 pounds a driving engine is employed. It is very seldom that the fishermen lose their booty. Sometimes two vessels work together dragging a chain along the sea bottom between them.

Generally anchors thus recovered are sold to be used as anchors again, for even considerable rust does not impair their efficiency. When they are deeply buried by rust they are sold for old iron, but anchors thus found are generally fit for use. Being made of wrought iron, even when sold by the pound they bring a good price.

The fishermen have two ways of disposing of their wares. They either sell them to the fish chandlers or hawk them about among the vessels of the harbor. Sometimes they are placed for sale on the wharfs, with the prices attached.

Generally the recovered anchors bring good prices. New ones are sold for five cents a pound and the ones that have been fished up seldom depreciate in value more than a cent a pound. The fisherman therefore makes $40 on every thousand pounds recovered. If he captures one of the heaviest anchors—a 6,000-pounder—he is well paid for his trouble. But the monsters of that size are seldom captured. The average is between 1,500 and 2,500 pounds.

Origin of "Vote."

"Vote" is a word with a curious history. To the Roman a "votum" was a solemn promise made to a神 or the gods. From the solemn promise deity, the meaning of "votum" itself, came the prayer or intangible wish, accompanied by an intense promise, and the far the devil wish whatever. So, "atm" and "opment" proceeded in English with "vote" passed into Eng. Jon the same sense. When Eng. Jon wrote of "public vote," to Heaven he meant no resolutions, but prayers. Finally "vote" acquired its present meaning—the formal and emphatic expression of a wish; while the old sense remains with its doublet "ow."

His Pet Snakes.

A correspondent of Richard Bell, the naturalist, gives the following information about one of his favorite specimens: "The South American boas are most easily tamed. My present boa, which I have had about two years, invariably sleeps in my bed, round my feet. He is perfectly clean, lies still and very seldom disturbs me; occasionally he crawls to my face to lick it. I frequently take the python to bed, but at present she is timid and if she cannot find my feet in the night becomes scared and walks out of bed, curling herself on the floor. The evil result is that she becomes cold."

Fire.

Fire at Campion, Ky., burned the building where seven lodges meet and the Campion Courier is printed. All these were burned out. Others suffered loss and the Methodist church was damaged.

The large two story business house on South Maysville street, formerly occupied as a hardware store, has been rented by Dan Young, of Owingsville, and will be occupied by a saloon.

Consumed.

The telephone exchange at Salt Lick, and the store room in which it was installed burned on Saturday night. The loss was total. The telephone exchange was the property of W. J. Fell, and the stock of goo is belonged to Thomas Wren.

Removed.

Judge Lewis Apperson and John A. Judy, lawyers, occupy the J. S. Hurt law office on Court street. This office is being fitted up for the purpose for which it was built and will be completed with legal libraries and lawyers who fill a place high up the ladder of legal knowledge and practice.

Card of Thanks.

For the many kindnesses shown, the attentiveness, the tenderness, the expressions of love for Mr. Frank McCormick during his long spell of sickness which continued more than three weeks, and which ended his life, we thus make manifest our appreciation of kind, loving and considerate friends and neighbors. No one received better care nor more scientific treatment than did our loved one.

Yours Respectfully,
Elizabeth McCormick and family.

Combine to Take Saloons.

Los Angeles capitalists are combining to offer to take over from the city the 200 saloon licenses now out, pay the city $186,000 a year, the present revenue from the saloons, and cut down the number of saloons to 72. The stockholders in the enterprise will be entitled to six per cent. on their investment. All over that may be made will be turned over to the city. The stockholders would buy all the fixtures of the saloons and their good will at an appraised value. William Mead, President of the Central Bank, is at the head of the movement.

Fire.

Fire at Campion, Ky., burned the building where seven lodges meet and the Campion Courier is printed. All these were burned out. Others suffered loss and the Methodist church was damaged.

The large two story business house on South Mayville street, formerly occupied as a hardware store, has been rented by Dan Young, of Owingsville, and will be occupied by a saloon.

Consumed.

The telephone exchange at Salt Lick, and the store room in which it was installed burned on Saturday night. The loss was total. The telephone exchange was the property of W. J. Fell, and the stock of goods belonged to Thomas Wren.

Removed.

Judge Lewis Apperson and John A. Judy, lawyers, occupy the J. S. Hurt law office on Court street. This office is being fitted up for the purpose for which it was built and will be completed with legal libraries and lawyers who will fill a place high up the ladder of legal knowledge and practice.

Card of Thanks.

For the many kindnesses shown, the attentiveness, the tenderness, the expressions of love for Mr. Frank McCormick during his long spell of sickness which continued more than three weeks, and which ended his life, we thus make manifest our appreciation of kind, loving and considerate friends and neighbors. No one received better care nor more scientific treatment than did our loved one.

Yours Respectfully,
Elizabeth McCormick and family.

Combine to Take Saloons.

Los Angeles capitalists are combining to offer to take over from the city the 200 saloon licenses now out, pay the city $186,000 a year, the present revenue from the saloons, and cut down the number of saloons to 72. The stockholders in the enterprise will be entitled to six per cent. on their investment. All over that may be made will be turned over to the city. The syndicate would buy all the fixtures of the saloons and their good will at an appraised value. William Mead, President of the Central Bank, is at the head of the movement.
